ACLA WELCOMES FIVE NEW LABORATORY MEMBERS
MEMBERSHIP AT ALL TIME HIGH OF 38 LABORATORIES

WASHINGTON, DC -- The American Clinical Laboratory Association welcomed two new members to its ranks today, bringing the total to five new ACLA members this year. ACLA's membership is at an all time high of 38, having grown from 16 members just five years ago. The five new member companies are:

- (1) Biodesix, Inc. a fully integrated molecular diagnostic company enabling personalized medicine using mass spectrometry based in Broomfield, Colorado
- (2) CorePlus, LLC, a highly specialized anatomic pathology service based in Miami, Florida
- (3) Genoptix, Inc. a specialized laboratory service provider focused on delivering personalized and comprehensive diagnostic services to community-based hematologists and oncologists based in Carlsbad, California
- (4) NMS Labs, a laboratory specializing in clinical toxicology and forensic testing based in Willow Grove, Pennsylvania
- (5) Aurora Diagnostics, Inc, was founded in 2006 as a platform for the acquisition and integration of anatomic pathology and other diagnostic laboratory businesses and is based in Palm Beach Gardens, Florida

“We are delighted to have Biodesix, Inc, CorePlus, LLC, Genoptix, Inc, NMS Labs, and Aurora Diagnostics, Inc as our newest ACLA members,” said Alan Mertz, ACLA’s President. “As ACLA continues to grow, so does its diversity of laboratories, its ability to represent the interests of the entire laboratory community, and its grassroots advocacy capabilities at this critical time.”
